

Suggested Reading Materials:

The following list has been reviewed by members of the ACT Examination Committee. References in BOLD are considered to contain relevant contributions to the field of Theriogenology and may be helpful in the candidate's preparation for completion of the ACT Certifying Examination. The Exam Committee feels that each candidate should assess their own knowledge in relationship to the topics listed on ACT Study Guide (found elsewhere on this website and also compiled by members of the Exam Committee). The candidate should consult with a mentor about their personal study plan, tailoring their personal reading list and study strategy to meet their own strengths and weaknesses. The following reading list is not intended to be an exclusive or required reading list, but rather as a guide to help the candidate locate information in areas where they find their knowledge is either deficient or needs to be bolstered.
